

I feel extremely strong about keeping the telephone privacy as it is now. We are enjoying our evening time without the bothersome phone calls. If we are subscribers to a given bank with an established relationship, they can call us for routine business. It is our choice with whom we bank and we do not need solicitations.